Kenai River Campus Career & Technical Education Center

The Career & Tech Center will support and enhance the University of Alaska mandate to train Alaskans for Alaska’s jobs.

The $15.25 million project provides for continued growth in KPC’s high-demand, workforce development programs in process technology, industrial process instrumentation and computer electronics which have operated at capacity for many years.

The new state-of-the-art facility allows KPC to meet its mission and provide a facility that has the flexibility to provide for future training demands as technology continues to evolve.

KRC - Kenai River Campus  KBC - Kachemak Bay Campus

LOCATIONS
Kenai River Campus (KRC)
Located on the banks of the Kenai River on more than 300 wooded acres and with an enrollment of about 2,200 students each semester, you will find a real sense of community on this campus. Small classes, individual attention, and highly qualified faculty give the campus a private college feel. A new Career and Technical Education Center offers world-class educational opportunities in Process Technology, Instrumentation and Computer Electronics. Students can live on campus in a new state-of-the-art 92-bed Residence Hall in apartment style suites. Each suite has four private bedrooms, two bathrooms (each shared by two students), complete kitchens and comfortable dining and living areas.

Kachemak Bay Campus (KBC)
Commanding a beautiful view of Kachemak Bay and Cook Inlet, KPC’s Kachemak Bay Campus serves as the focal point of the college’s programs and services on the southern Kenai Peninsula. KBC offers a variety of degree programs and life enrichment courses to almost 700 students each semester. KBC’s caring and warm faculty and staff make everyone feel welcome at this special place on the Peninsula.

Resurrection Bay Extension Site (RBES)
KPC delivers classes to the eastern Peninsula community of Seward and outlying communities via our extension site. Expert adjunct faculty in Seward offer both general education courses and community interest classes. KPC has a part-time coordinator with an office inside Seward High School.

Anchorage Extension Site (AES)
KPC delivers classes to more than 200 students in the Anchorage area at UAA’s University Center complex. The AES offers degree programs in process technology and occupational safety and health. The friendly faculty and staff are focused on your success.

Welcome to Kenai Peninsula College! KPC delivers a private college experience at a public university cost at the Kenai River Campus in Soldotna, Kachemak Bay Campus in Homer, Resurrection Bay Extension Site in Seward and Anchorage Extension Site.

We are the University of Alaska Anchorage presence on the Kenai Peninsula and strive to provide the best educational value for your dollar anywhere. Our student population is as diverse as our course offerings, and we're always adjusting our course to meet the needs of the Kenai Peninsula community and State of Alaska.

KPC is a leader in the University of Alaska system in delivering e-learning classes. In the most current semester, KPC offered more than 160 sections of e-learning courses. The majority of KPC students are taking at least one class via e-learning each semester.

Our faculty and staff are top-notch, student-oriented professionals who will do their utmost to make your educational experience a rewarding one. We pride ourselves on small classes, outstanding student service, personal attention from our faculty and staff and a warm, family-like atmosphere.

As part of the community campus system of the University of Alaska Anchorage, you aspire to become a frontier of learning, creativity and discovery—a university of first choice in Alaska and the Pacific Northwest.

To those of you who have yet to visit one of our four locations, we encourage you to check out KPC's newly designed website and experience the college by taking a virtual tour. Join the students who have discovered that KPC is a college of first choice. For those who are not strangers to our classrooms, welcome back!
