

Kenai Peninsula College
University of Alaska Anchorage

156 College Road, Soldotna, Alaska 99669

April 22, 2009
News Brief #04220901

Contact: Suzie Kendrick
KPC Advancement Programs Manager
(907) 262-0320 insk@uaa.alaska.edu

For Immediate Release

Kenai Peninsula College Adjunct Faculty Week

In an effort to recognize the vital service that part-time faculty, known as adjunct faculty, provide to Kenai Peninsula College, both the city of Kenai and the Kenai Peninsula Borough have proclaimed April 27 to May 5, 2009 as KPC Adjunct Faculty Week.

In KPC's 45-year history, adjunct faculty have supplemented and complemented the full-time faculty by bringing their expertise into KPC classrooms. The college could not offer many of the courses currently available without these dedicated professionals.

KPC Director Gary Turner will accept the formal proclamation of Adjunct Faculty Week from Kenai Mayor Pat Porter at the Kenai Chamber of Commerce luncheon at the Kenai Merit Inn, April 29. Director Turner has received the Kenai Peninsula Borough proclamation from Borough Mayor Dave Carey and will read it as part of the Kenai River Campus Commencement program at 7 p.m., May 5 at the Renee C. Henderson Auditorium at Kenai Central High School.